

Tribute to Francine Lalonde

The AQDMD's story (Association pour le droit de mourir dans la dignité) is one of the friendship and understanding that tie the many individuals who, just like Francine Lalonde, are committed to securing for all who so wish as peaceful a death as possible.

We first met in 1984 and I can personally attest to this woman's exceptional political authenticity and lasting loyalty.

Throughout her career, Francine tirelessly chose to address the challenges posed by social inequality, injustice and suffering: alleviating end-of-life suffering was to be her last challenge. She always supported the position espoused by the AQDMD and firmly believed that it would become a reality.

We wish to thank and recognize Francine Lalonde for her conviction that persistent tenacity can make difference.
